THE CAMDEN HIGH SCHOOL BAND

RIVALING the team itself for popularity on the football field is the Camden High School Band. Marching up and down the field with new purple and gold uniforms flashing, the band, with its inspiring music, rallies the team on to nobler deeds and the cheering section on to an even greater volume of cheering.

Under the careful training of Mr. Chester V. Koppenhaver and with Lynn Hewitt as drum major, it has become one of our most prized organizations.

CAMDEN HIGH SCHOOL SYNCOPATORS

UNDER the diligent leadership of Mr. Robert M. Haley, a dance orchestra, modeled after the better swing bands of today, has been developed. Much of the success and tremendous applause of the concert is due to the selections of the Syncopators. This musical group is also largely responsible for the success of the Friday afternoon dances sponsored by the Purple and Gold Committee, and their fine cooperation is deeply appreciated. The graduating seniors thank them and wish them continued success.

THE GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

THIS organization, under the direction of Mr. Robert M. Haley, has provided excellent training and experience in choral singing for those girls who desire to become more efficient in the field of music. Three members of this talented group, Miss Dorothy Nicholson, Miss Jean Todd and Miss June Abbott, had the privilege of singing in a trio accompanied by the Syncopators.

The Glee Club participates in all musical functions sponsored by the school and gave a memorable performance on the night of the Concert.

THE BOYS' GLEE CLUB

THIS club consists of a number of Camden High School students, personally selected and trained by Mr. Robert M. Haley. The qualifications are a good tone and a real love for the vocal field of music. It numbers about fifty and attempts to teach the members to sing in a group and to gain a better knowledge of good music.

Each year the organization plays an important part in making the Concert and the musical play successful.

Back Row: E. Richardson, E. Cheeseman, G. Greenstein, R. Covington, E. Riddick, M. Halicks,
L. Mutzer, J. Todd.

THE ART CLUB

A GROUP of interested art followers can be found busily engaged in clay modeling and Indian bead work every Thursday morning in Camden High's famous art studio, Room 105. Among the members you could probably find the future artists, cartoonists, and advertisers of tomorrow, and if you look hard enough you may find a future sculptor or a fashion designer.

The officers of this club are: president, Ruth Bauer; vice-president, Elma Riddick; secretary and treasurer, Mary Halicks. Miss Lyola C. Pedrick, of Camden High School's art department, is the faculty adviser.

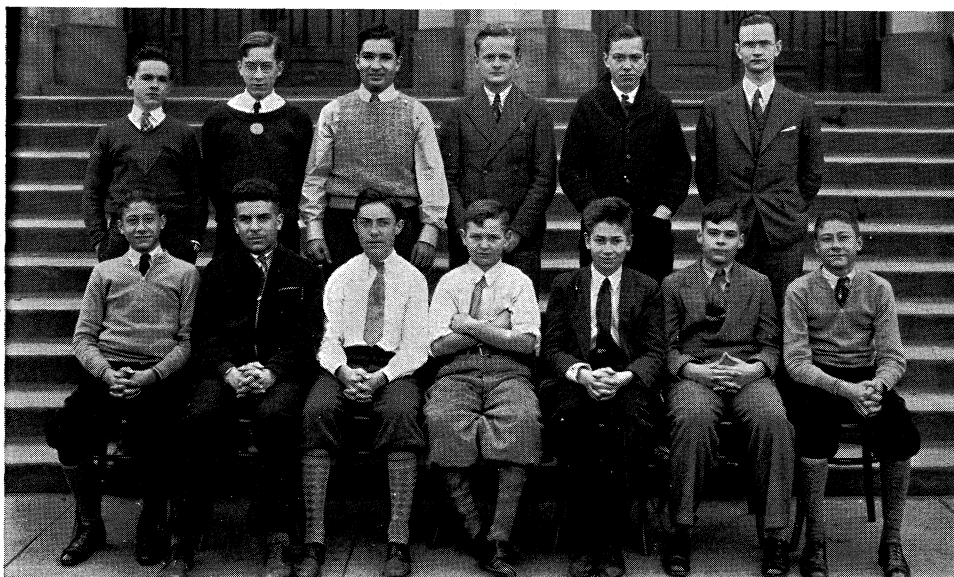

Front Row: R. Segal, F. Scholler, T. Jacobsen, J. Blizzard, E. Rapini, V. Cann. Back Row: E. Kohl, G. Pukis, C. Sangtenetti, J. Katzen, Mr. R. Di Muro and Mr. R. White (Advisers), R. Meade, J. Winn, J. Holzman, J. Herford, M. Stewart, I. Hunchuruk, V. Craker.

TECHNICAL SCIENCE CLUB

THE purpose of the Technical Science Club is to promote an interest in science and its practical applications. This club, founded in 1926, has become, during the ten years of its existence, one of the most active clubs in the school. The most outstanding event during the term was a trip to the Franklin Institute. Many interesting reports were given at the following meeting to benefit those who did not attend the party.

This club is the proud owner of a sixteen mm. moving picture projector, and a camera which has photographed many of the outstanding activities of the school.

The organization is supervised by Mr. DiMuro, a new member of the faculty. The officers of the club are: James Wynn, president; Robert Meade, vice-president; Thorsten Jacobsen, secretary; Marcus Robinson, treasurer.

Bottom Row: W. Moor, M. Elangian, E. Ireton, W. Davis, H. Taylor, C. Lutz, J. Moor. Top Row: D. Tolly, W. Moos, H. Bloom, E. Manning, J. Kurkis, Mr. Reber (Adviser).

OPPORTUNITY IN GENERAL SCIENCE

FOR those lower classmen who are interested in delving into the mysteries of science as a preparation for the higher sciences of chemistry or physics, there is Mr. Reber's Opportunity in General Science Club, meeting every Tuesday morning.

The members of this club go more deeply into their subject than their time allowance in class permits. This work affords much enjoyment as well as educational value.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

THE Library Council may be called the service club of the school because of their work in the library. Sixty members are already working on the more routine processes . . . checking books, sending notices. They will take part in the more difficult work as their ability develops.

The Junior Library Club made an exhibit of the favorite readings of the faculty when they were of high school age.

The Senior Library Club had posters made to announce the Camden Book Fair and arranged an exhibit of books written and illustrated by some of the speakers at the Book Fair.

The officers of the Senior Library Club are: James Cleary, president; Lillian Talbot, vice-president; Janet Swain, secretary.

The officers of the Junior Library Club are: Anna Sing, president; Margaret Stutzke, vice-president; Clara Croisette, secretary; Karl Koehler, treasurer.

Bottom Row: D. Siewkewicz, L. Howell, M. Schwab, C. Hanna, M. Shay, E. Stopfer, I. Dusenberry, J. Doberty, C. Holler, D. Woolston, F. Goldberg, E. Lingenfelter, D. Mackler, P. Kay. Second Row: W. READING CLUBS

CAMDEN HIGH'S "intelligentsia" congregates every Thursday morning in Room 318, under the benevolent direction of Mrs. Wiggins. The motto of the Reading Club is "Read for quality, not quantity." The officers are Charles Hanna, president and Earl Stopfer, secretary.

The Reading Club for the lower school is sponsored by Miss Zeigler. The organization, now consisting of thirty-five members, meets in Room 305 on Tuesday mornings.

The officers are: Jean Doberty, president; Sol Weinberg, vice-president; Carolyn Holler, secretary; Irene Dusenberry, treasurer.

The members of these clubs have the opportunity to read the most interesting books published, either fiction or non-fiction. Outstanding magazines and newspapers are also available.

The primary object of these clubs is to increase reading application among the students.

LATIN CLUB

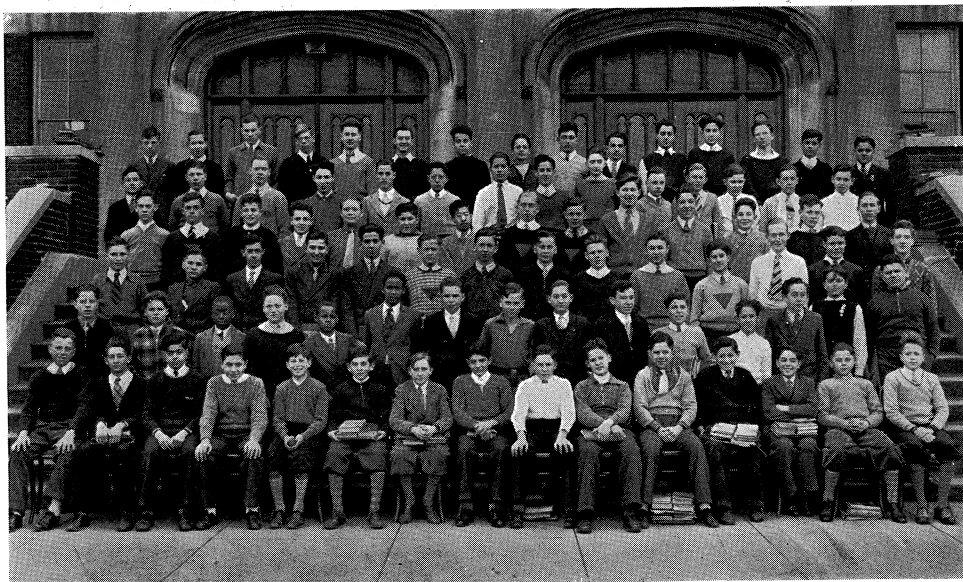

THE Latin Club, sponsored by Miss Helen Osler, has the following officers: Anne Goodrow, president; John Read, vice-president; Robert Brown, secretary; Samuel Supnick, treasurer. This club takes up activities in the field of Latin, such as plays with Roman backgrounds, Latin crossword puzzles, games, informal talks, and at Christmas time has an entertainment with some features, as the old Roman Saturnalia, which began on December 17.

ITALIAN CLUB

THE Circolo Italiano, under the supervision of Mr. Lawrence Scotti, is the first Italian Club to be established in the history of Camden High School. Through the efforts of the supervisor, the president—Clara Paglione, and the secretary—Angeline Spine, a foundation for this club has been formed upon which, in the following years, it may make further progress and become an outstanding organization of this school. By the discussions on literature, customs, culture, and informal topics, we hope that the students may become better acquainted with the history of the Italian peninsula.

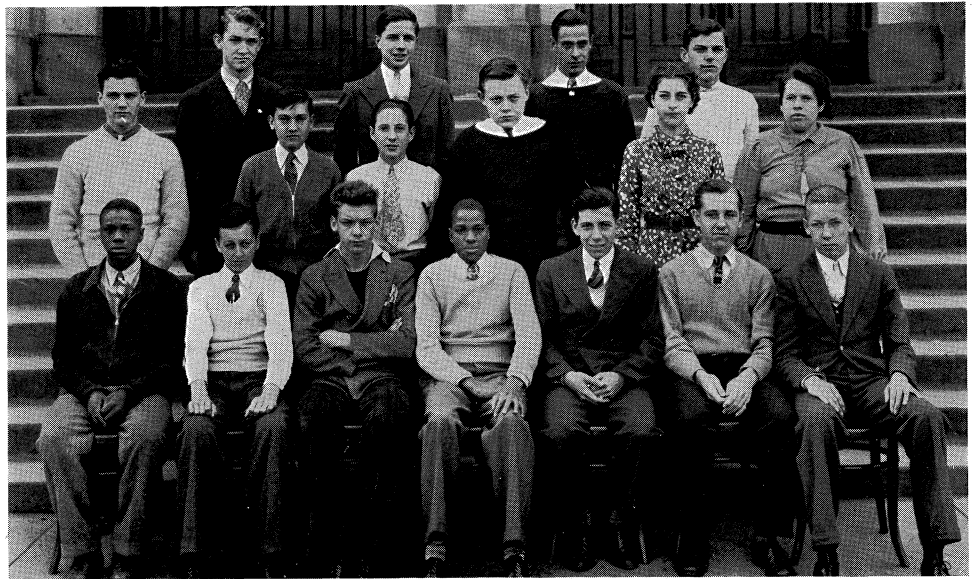

Bottom Row: E. Guzik, M. Haines, J. Cettai, A. Verderosa, V. Springer, L. Fischenberg, M. Dunne, A. Scarduzio, C. Wahl, N. Zauber, J. Buchowski, H. Rosen, J. Castaldi, B. Dewar, H. Switzer. Patton, W. Bunting, J. Richelson, J. Levy, Di Buro, N. Mascio, A. Del Rossi, P. Gavianich, S. Puttari, R. Cedtti.

CHESS AND CHECKER CLUBS

WITH primary objectives of sportsmanship and entertainment, boys from the upper and lower classes meet on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, respectively, under the able guidance of Mr. Philip Randle and Mr. Albert Bass.

The arts of concentration and skill are practiced extensively and many lasting friendships are cemented. An excellent basis for adult leisure hours is provided by these well-spent club periods.

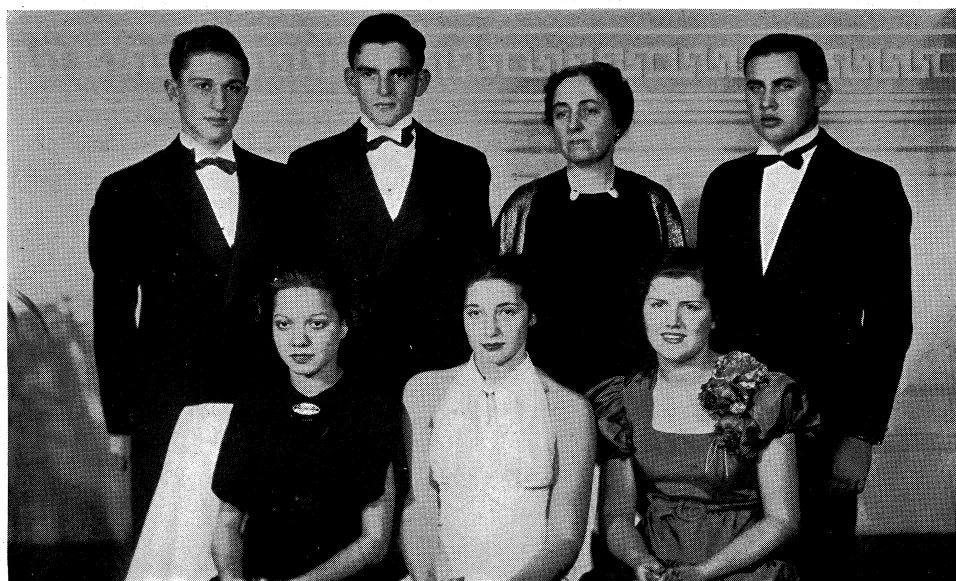

Bottom Row: G. Hamilton, C. Tamburino, R. Dunn, M. Cadwell, J. Petrocilla, T. Bayruns, S. Platt.
Middle Row: G. Eckhardt, E. Schulke, J. Goldman, T. Stewart, M. Steck, E. Relley. Back Row:
J. Flory, E. Marcoe, J. Frost, L. Kiesel.

POSTER CLUB

ANOTHER season of the Poster Club has drawn to a close. This club, under the skillful management of Miss Ruth Wescott, has contributed much to the school activities. Aside from the many posters advertising football games, dances, cake sales, the "Record," and senior "Purple and Gold," the club has given its best to the science and English departments.

The officers of the club are: Martin Cadwell, president; Robert Dunn, secretary.
