

HERE AND THERE IN CAMDEN

Thomas Pollard, colored, aged 40 years, of 18 South Eighth street, dropped dead at Haddon avenue and Pine street, Corner Pratt said that death was due to heart failure.

Pleas of persons against whom indictments were found this week by the grand jury will be taken next Tuesday and jury trials will begin on June 17.

Struck by a hammer which slipped from the hands of another workman, Stelly Tablowski, aged 22 years, of 415 Emerald street, is in Cooper Hospital with a fractured skull.

Judge Lloyd and Prosecutor Wolverton, Food Administrators for Camden county, will establish quarters in the courthouse next Tuesday. -

Clifford Grundy, aged 23 years, of 61 Penn street, lost a finger yesterday in a machine at the plant of the Victor Talking Machine Company. He was treated at Cooper Hospital.

Her hand caught in a machine at the R. M. Hollinshead plant, Emma Warders, aged 20 years, of 803 Linden street, had two badly mangled fingers treated at Cooper Hospital.

Two little victims of vicious dogs were patients at Cooper Hospital. They were David Blackson, aged 12 years, of 1062 Segal street, and Rose Arcant, aged 3 years, of 947 South Third street. The boy was bitten on the left leg and the girl was bitten on the face.

Representatives from all sections of Camden county will this afternoon meet at the Victor auditorium with County Chairman C. H. Haddon to lay plans for an aggressive campaign for the sale of War Stamps during the week of June 24. Vernon Monroe, secretary of the State Committee, will be the principal speaker.

Taken into custody by Policeman Clayton after he was attacked in a saloon for alleged unpatriotic utterances, Ernest Iverson, a Swede, aged 35 years, of 449 Haddon avenue, was released yesterday afternoon by the Camden police when no one appeared to make complaint against him.