

OVER IN CAMDEN

While running Frank Stock, 14 years old, of 814 Kimber street, fell and dislocated his elbow. He was taken to Cooper Hospital.

With all but $100 of its capital stock of $23,000 paid in the Non-Explosive Oil Can Company filed incorporation articles yesterday.

John Dougherty, a telephone lineman, of 819 Liberty street, fell from a pole yesterday and broke his arm. He was admitted to Cooper Hospital.

William Dickerson, of Magnolia, who is charged with robbing his father, was committed to the reform school by Judge Armstrong yesterday.

Now that the primary election is over Mayor Hatch will name the thirteen new policemen to go on duty on October 1. There are about ten applicants for each position.

On a charge of looting the old Starr mansion of $50 worth of lead pipe and gas fixtures, Wilmer Chalfant and Joseph Callahan were committed by Recorder Nowrey yesterday.

Harry Fey, 13 years old, of Hardingville, Gloucester county, had a thumb blown off yesterday by the accidental discharge of a gun. He was taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden.

Pierre De Berr, an employe of the Camden Embroidery Company, at Front and Pearl streets, had one of his ankles broken yesterday by a box falling on him. He was admitted to Cooper Hospital.

George S. Neldlinger, who was released from the Mercer county jail yesterday after serving a sentence, was brought to Camden by County Detective Smith to answer a charge of passing a bogus check on Lorigan Brothers.

The first United States flag to be erected over Moro Castle at Havana, Cuba, and owned by George W. Alzor, of Merchantville, will be carried in the Dewey parade in New York by members of the Third Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers, who enlisted in the Spanish-American war.