

CAN NOW HANG OUT SHINGLE AS LAWYER

FRANK VOIGT.

Young Camden lawyer who has just been admitted to practice.

Crowning four years of hard work, Frank Voigt, son of Sergeant-at-Arms J. Fred Voigt, of the Camden District Court, was given the right to hang out his shingle as a full-fledged lawyer by the State examiners.

The young barrister has been devoting every spare minute to study, and he is being congratulated on his success. Lawyer Voigt is prominently identified with the younger element of stalwart Republicanism in Camden.