

CAMDEN NEWS NOTES

 County Detective Smith went to Harrisburg yesterday to secure requisition papers for the custody of Edward Brier, who was recently arrested in Philadelphia on a charge of embezzlement, preferred by the Chicago Publishing Company.

 The General Construction Company was incorporated yesterday with a capital of $125,000, the incorporators being Joseph H. Low, Harvey F. Carr and J. Edward Fagan, all of Camden.

 These officers have been elected by the Firemen's Mutual Benevolent Association: President, Alfred Vickers; vice-presidents, William Sawyer, Newton Ash; recording secretary, William Miller; financial secretary, William Rose; treasurer, William Elverson; directors, Samuel Lodge, Scott Franklin and Andrew Miller.

 John Palmer, who had his body pierced half a dozen times by a knife in the hands of another man last Sunday, was able to leave the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

 A fall on the ice resulted in E. L. Headley, 50 years old, of 604 Federal street, going to the Cooper Hospital yesterday with a broken leg.

 Although he fell from the top of a telephone pole, twenty-five feet to the ground, A. A. Small, a lineman, 39 years old, of 319 Mt. Vernon street, was found to have escaped with bruises at the Cooper Hospital yesterday.

 The home of Frederick Rich, 132 Kelghn avenue, was partly burned yesterday when he attempted to thaw out some frozen water pipes.

 Superintendent Starkey, of the Blackwood Insane Asylum, notified the police yesterday that Della Smiley, a lunatic, had escaped during Tuesday night.

 With all the pall bearers past exalted rulers of the local lodge of Elks, George D. Borton, himself a past officer of the lodge, was buried in Harleigh Cemetery yesterday. The services were held at his home, Second and York streets, Camden, where Rev. George Hemingway, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, spoke. The Elks also held services at the house. The pall bearers included Past Exalted Rulers John Henry Fort, Samuel Kilpatrick, Dr. A. H. Lippincott, Alexander Millete, Francis Warren and J. Henry Switzer.