

Veteran Fireman Falls to Death

Samuel Lodge, aged 61, of 418 Mechanic street, who retired on a pension five years ago after more than thirty years of faithful service in the Camden Fire Department, was killed yesterday afternoon in a fall from a third story to the ground, when he missed his footing while standing on a scaffold painting window frames. His skull was fractured and he died in an ambulance while en route to Cooper Hospital.