

JENKINS WILL SEE STOCKTON....

Preparing to Set Aside the Writ
on Which Lambert Was Saved.

Prosecutor Jenkins, of Camden, will take steps to set aside the writ of error secured by Lawyer John L. Semple by which the execution of Theodore Lambert has been stayed. In an interview yesterday the Prosecutor said he would go to Trenton next Tuesday and consult with Attorney-General Stockton in relation to the matter. They will review the citation papers served on Sheriff Barrett and copies of the proceedings in the case.

The Prosecutor is of the opinion that application will be made immediately to quash the writ on the ground that it was improperly granted. He states, however, that the case is in the hands of Attorney-General Stockton, who is more directly interested. The point raised on the writ of error is in opposition to an opinion rendered by the Attorney-General, that a conviction is not completed until sentence is pronounced.
