

KISSES AND HUGS DESERTER.

There was a kissing and hugging exhibition in the open during the progress of the hearings in the Camden police court. Angelo Marino was arrested at Trenton by City Detective Troncone on a charge of deserting his wife, Marie. The couple greeted each other with smiles as the husband stood in the prisoners' dock and the wife among the witnesses.

Mrs. Marino said it would break her heart to see her husband go to jail, and the case was dismissed. After the kissing and hugging exhibition the couple left the courtroom arm in arm. They had been separated since last May.—Philadelphia Record.
